Lately a Puget Sound steamer took 10,000 to Victoria, and on the 24th a schooner from San Francisco was in the bay awaiting a cargo. The Indians are the most successful catchers and have protested against white men catching them because the whites use firearms to secure the seal.

TERRIBLE MARINE DISASTER.

Wreck of the Schiller—311 Lives Lost.

LONDON, May 8.—The Eagle line steamer Schiller, Capt Thomas which sailed from New York April 28th for Hamburg by the way of Plymouth and Cherbourg has been wrecked off Scilly Isles. It is reported 200 persons have perished.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The Schiller sailed from here with 119 cabin passengers.

LONDON, May 8.—Additional particulars received of the wreck of the Schiller show the disaster is fully as terrible as at first reported. The accident occurred at 10 o'clock last night, at which hour the steamer struck on the dangerous Retarier ledges near Bishop's Rock. A fog prevailed at the time. A boat belonging to St. Agnes, the southern most of the Scilly Islands has landed some survivors of the wreck at Mary's Island. Another of the Schiller's survivors was picked up while swimming, with the tide. They had several narrow escapes from drowning and were a number of times [illegible] she [illegible] a rock. They declare the number of lives lost by the disaster is 200. A frightful sea is raging and it is scarcely possible for parties engaged in searching for survivors to live. The Scilly life boat has put off for the wreck.

PLYMOUTH, May 8.—The agent at this place of the Eagle line has proceeded to Scilly. A gun was heard at 10 this morning near the scene of the disaster.

LONDON, May 8, 1 P. M.—Up to this hour in this city only five passengers and two of the crew of the Schiller are known to have been saved. The captain and second mate are drowned. The steamer is now lying broadside on the rocks. She is under water and her mainmast is gone. A steamer and several boats are cruising about the scene of the wreck. The disaster was owing to a dense fog which prevented the Scilly lights from being seen.

2 P. M.—The wreck of the Schiller causes great excitement in this city. Extras are published containing the particulars at hand of the disaster. A later dispatch holds out that some passengers and some of the crew may have reached some other of the Scilly Islands than those mentioned.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The agents here of the Eagle line say Capt. Thomas of the ill fated Schiller was the oldest commander on the line. He was many years in the service of the Peninsula and Oriental Company, occupied a high place among British sailors, was with difficulty induced to leave the British service and enter that of the Eagle line. The Schiller was one of the newest and best boats in the transcontinental service, large, strongly built on the latest pattern. She was built on the Clyde by Robert Napier & Son. Her sister ship is the Lessing. The two vessels left port for home densely crowded, being the first to take advantage of the opening spring travel. They were the last two steamers that sailed under the flag of the Eagle line which has been consolidated with the Hamburg American line. Previous to the departure of the Schiller the company's vessels had gone out with light passenger lists.

The dimensions of the Schiller were: Length [illegible] feet, beam 40 feet, depth of hold [illegible] feet, 3 600 tons burthen and 3 000 indicated horse power, classed at Lloyds 100 A 1. She was full brig rigged, had eight large lifeboats and three iron decks. Her engines could run the vessel 14 or 16 miles an hour. She is said to have been built according to the requirements of Lloyds marine insurance and to have possessed every known appliance for safety. She was valued at $700 000 and was insured for her full value. The crew consisted of 1?4 men, including officers. She carried eight kegs containing $300 000 gold, shipped by E. B. Ballin & Co., Paris and 250 mail bags, containing the entire continental mail together with a large Australian mail. Her cargo consisted of general merchandise including 800 bales cotton, 318 bbls rosin, 3 000 bushels corn and a large consignment of leaf tobacco.

The offices of the company were besieged during the morning by friends of those who sailed in the vessel and the scenes of distress which resulted from confirmation of the news that the vessel had been lost were pitiful. One man who had a wife and two children on board fell into a fainting fit on being informed of the fate of the vessel and loud wailings were heard on all sides.

LONDON, May 8, 2.30 P. M.—At this hour it is known the following persons have been saved from the wreck of the Schiller: H Hillers chief officer, and seamen Timke and Balling, stokers Gould, Berg, Wallis, Peterson and Peck, sailors Louis Reidner cabin passenger of New York; Hern probably Dr. F J Hern of Shenandoah; Kowhen probably E. H. Kuhn passenger of New York; Peste probably Leo Weste, cabin passenger of Philadelphia, and F. Schillenborg steerage passenger of New York.

The bodies of two dead passengers have been found.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Among cabin passengers on the Schiller were Jos Achiletz well known brewer, Henry Friend and wife, M. Stein, Jacob Larform, Mrs Mirner and child all of Milwaukie, Ann Esner, Eliza Leh, W Schristen, H Wohler, wife and children, G. J Schmint and W. Metzger of Chicago; Mrs August and Miss Dora Zeigler, Mrs Dora Cohn and Miss A Meyer, St Louis; Wm. Leach, German Consul at Havana, wife and daughter.

LONDON, May 8—7 P. M.—A dispatch just received from Penzance, Cornwall, says a life boat and steamer left there at 1.30 P. M. for the scene of the wreck. The sea is rough, preventing small craft from going out. Retarier ledge on which the Schiller struck is barely a third of a mile inside of Bishop's rock and the steamship should have heard Bishop's fog-whistle.

8 P. M.—Twenty six of the persons who were on board the Schiller in addition to those reported saved have been landed at Tresco and Bryher Islands of the Scilly group. Among these are the second, third and fourth officers. The captain is drowned.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The officers of the Schiller were John G. Thomas, commander; H. Hillers, chief officer; T. Palma, second officer; G. Freeze, third officer; B. Henritz, fourth officer; J. Lang, chief engineer; F. Conrad, second engineer; H. Roenne, third engineer; J. Kundell, fourth engineer; Dr. A. Roll, physician; E. Schmetten, purser; C. Putfaken, chief steward; first cabin [illegible]; chief steward second cabin.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The steerage passenger list comprised 100 adults, 16 children and 11 infants.

The Evening Post has the following additional particulars concerning the wreck of the steamer Schiller: The crew number about 120; passengers 254, of whom 120 were in the steerage. The cargo exclusive of specie was of the value of $50 000 insured by shippers, probably $300 000 gold coin shipped by E. B. Ballin & Co. to E. Ballin their Paris correspondent was packed in six kegs and insured for the full amount in their London companies.

Ex Senator Schurz and family sailed on the Hamburg steamer Pomerania which sailed the day after the Schiller. But for a dinner and serenade given him here he might have been a passenger on the Schiller.

Capt. Thomas was middle aged and unmarried, a resident of Hamburg, although most of his life has been passed in British vessels. He is said to be a native of Germany.

NEW YORK, May 8.—The following dispatch is received at the office of the Eagle line from the home officers of Hamburg: At about 1.0 A. M. the Schiller was wrecked off Scilly Isles. 4 passengers saved. The names will be sent you from Scilly. Only seven of the crew are saved. Captain, second and third officers drowned.

3 P. M.—The following additional just received from the agent at Plymouth: The Schiller is a total loss, the first and third officers with 10 passengers and crew are known to be saved. Two steamers and life boats are wrecked. The names of the survivors not ascertained. Will telegraph when obtained. (Signed) STLVENS.

A little later this dispatch was received at the office Eagle line from Hamburg: Keep up strong hearts more saved. (Signed) KOHN.

The Saved

LONDON, May 8.—The following passengers are known to have been saved:

First class Passengers—H. V. Stern, New York; Leo Weste, Philadelphia and Karl Kusil.

Second class and Steerage—Silas Hoester, Charles Thrau, Carl Dantzen, Marcus Pannitler and Charles Jones and wife.

Four other steerage passengers were saved but their names have not yet been ascertained as they are in a state of insensibility.

The following members of the crew are saved: Blusing, Packendorff, Walser, Darblackhouse, Rehberg, Jensen, Adamson, Hammann, Bloum, Jurgelsen, Wernecht, Fahler, Hoffman, Ern, Steerman, Pel, Winsch and Schweiske.

9 P. M.—Up to this hour but 41 of all who were on board are known to be saved. Twenty bags of mail matter have also been saved. Several bodies have been picked up near the wreck, among them a woman with a child clasped in her arms.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The agent of the Schiller received another dispatch this evening from the agent at Plymouth as follows: Hillers, 1st officer; Polman, 2d officer; Heinz, 4th officer; Jansen and Packendorff boatswains and Hirsch sailmaker are saved. Also passengers T. O. West, Henry Stern, Mr and Mrs Janes, Perth, Jan Dunk, Hexter, Frohm, Carl Kuhn, Marcus Fortner, Schillenberg, Jansen, Fellerer, Fehrand, Williams, stokers Smike and Ballig, sailors Gouldberg, Willis and Peterson.

The survivors are expected at Penzance tomorrow morning when we will get a detailed list.

The Mails that were on Board

PENZANCE, May 8.—The following mails were placed on board the Schiller: For London [illegible] bags of letters and papers; for Liverpool 11 bags of letters and papers; for Glasgow 8 bags of letters and papers; for Dublin 11 bags of letters and papers; for Cherbourg and Paris 12 bags of letters and papers; for Hamburg 17 bags of letter and papers. The total number of letters is ? 000. In addition to these there was on board the entire regular transcontinental mail from Australia and New Zealand comprising 1?? bags.

Arrival of Some of the Saved

LONDON, May 9, 3 P. M.—A dispatch just received says Richard William and Chas Henry Percy steerage passengers were saved. Nineteen corpses and some bales of hay and other portions of the cargo have been recovered. The survivors and a portion of the mails have reached Penzance and will be forwarded to Plymouth by the first train this (Sunday) morning. Those who are going to Cherbourg and Hamburg will be sent to their destination by the steamship Lessing of the Hamburg-American line now on her way from New York, and expected to touch at Plymouth to day.

The Latest—Correct List of the Saved

NEW YORK, May 9.—Oelrichs & Co., agents of the Eagle line to-day give the following correct list of passengers thus far known to be saved from the steamer Schiller: Leo Weste, Henry Stern, John Jones, Mrs Jones, Jerry Blink, S Hexter, C Frohm, Carl Kuhn, Marcus Fortner, R Schillenberg, C. Janee, John Gelleken, Charles Henry Percy, Richard Williams, Joseph Legerore. The [illegible] the agent states is not in their list of passengers.

NEW YORK, May 9.—A Herald [illegible] London [illegible] gives the following particulars of the loss of the steamer Schiller: The survivors and dead arrived to day as follows: At 8 there came a boat with 7 persons; at 10 two boats with 7 persons, two of whom were dead, and at 11 o'clock there came two other boats, 26 men and 1 woman reached Tresco Island in two boats. The [illegible] boat subsequently picked up the bodies of 4 men, a woman and a little boy. One man was found at Smith's Sound floating on the wreck. At a late hour of the day 4 bodies, one female, were found. [illegible] persons are known to have been saved. [illegible] bodies have been recovered.

A violent sea is still beating on the merciless shoal and thus prevents rendering effectual aid. When at last boats reached the neighborhood of the Retarrier ledge the last mast of the Schiller went overboard and scores of people who were clinging to it were drowned after having endured the most agonizing suspense during the night.

LONDON, May 9.—43 survivors, crew and passengers of the Schiller have arrived at Penzance. Of these 33 have gone to Plymouth, the other 10 are too ill to be moved.

The following additional particulars of the disaster have been received: A heavy fog prevented observations on the Schiller since Tuesday. The engines were put at half speed and the sail reduced at 9 o'clock Friday night. At 10 o'clock the same night the ship struck the ledge. A great panic prevailed. Capt. Thomas is highly praised for his conduct during the terrible scenes which followed. Two boats were filled with men who refused to come out. The captain fired his revolver over their heads to drive them out, and then fired at them but without effect. Afterward the ship was washed ashore broadside to sea, and all on board those boats perished. The tackle at the stern was released too soon, leaving them suspended by the bows. Three boats got away. One life boat was so badly injured that she sank and eleven of the people on board were rescued by the other boats. The fog lifted an hour after the ship struck and lights were plainly visible. Two of the boats on the steamer were crushed by a falling funnel. Rockets and guns were fired from the steamer till the powder became wet. The deck which was crowded with people was swept away at [illegible] A. M. The Captain gathered some of the survivors on the bridge. All were gradually swept away by the flood tide which took the doctor and captain last. All rigging which remained above the water was crowded with passengers all night. The mainmast fell at 7.30 A. M. and being of iron sunk with all on it. The foremast gave way soon after. The life boats and wreck stuff saved the lives of some who drifted miles away. One man was rescued after being in the water ten hours. Two boats from St Agnes arrived a short time before the masts fell. They were unable to approach the steamer on account of the shoals but picked up stragglers in the water. Passengers say Capt. Thomas left the bridge at [illegible] A. M. to assist those on deck and when he reached the deck was swept away by a heavy sea. All concur in saying that he exercised the greatest care and was not abed for five nights previous to the disaster. The sea began to break over the vessel a half hour after she struck and the tide rose 25 feet before daybreak. Only one woman was saved. The survivors who were landed at Tresco escaped in the Schiller's iron boats.

10 A. M.—Fifty eight mail bags with 27 from New Zealand were saved from the Schiller. The steamer Pomerania sailed from Plymouth during the night for Hamburg without taking the survivors of the Schiller. Statements made by the officers of the Schiller add nothing to the particulars already telegraphed. All accounts agree that the panic which followed the striking of the ship was heartrending and terrible beyond description.

NEW YORK, May 9.—A Herald cable special from London May 9th says: All day long details of the Schiller disaster have been coming to the London office from the Herald's correspondents at Penzance, the courteous American consular agent at Scilly Islands Mr Muxton and ordinary London sources. Unfortunately no more persons are reported to be saved. Bodies are constantly being picked up. Among the recovered are those of Geo Leonhardt, Carl Schmidt, Mrs Reiderer and child, Mrs. Becker, Mrs Ridgway, Mrs. Hermine West, five men, five women and two children. Altogether 24 bodies have been found. The total number of lives lost is 311. The Herald correspondents succeeded in interviewing Mr Poleman, second officer of the Schiller and Henry Stern and Mr Frahm first-class passengers. From their narrative they gather that the voyage was moderately good until May 4th. The last three days it was impossible to take observations. The ship was out of her course half a mile at the time of the catastrophe. Captain Thomas was on deck night and day four entire days. At [illegible] o'clock on the evening of the 7th there was a dense fog, the sails were taken in, the engine put on half speed and fog bells used. Bishop's light was unseen though only half a mile distant. The darkness was intense at the time. Most of the male passengers had not retired and the usual rush for the boats was made but nearly all the boats were staved. One boat, with a few sailors left the ship, cowardly refusing aid. Two boats were saved. The captain endeavored to compel obedience by firing his revolver over their heads. During the two hours six cannon shots were fired when the powder dampened. Distress signals rockets and blue lights were unanswered. At midnight the fog lifted in a minute revealing the lighthouse. Waves were sweeping the decks, and carrying away victims. At 2 o'clock the deck house with women and children, was swept away. Cries and shrieks of victims were heartrending. Then followed a ghastly silence. After the smoke-stack fell crushing some of the boats and two others were carried away. The remainder followed the captain to the forward bridge. Each succeeding wave took fresh victims. Some sought refuge in the mainmast and some elsewhere. At 3 o'clock the captain and two other officers were on the bridge. The captain descended for a moment to render aid and was swept away. Thus perished a brave man. Says Mr Stone: At this time about ten persons were clinging to the rigging of the mainmast and 30 to that of the foremast. The ship had careened her yards touching the water and the tide was rising. At 6 o'clock the fog again lifted. The survivors shouted but their cries were unavailing. At 7 o'clock the mainmast, and at 10 minutes to 8 the foremast, both iron fell. Then two of the St Agnes boats came and rescued a few who managed to keep afloat. It was reported yesterday there were 103 women on board. The survivors were taken to-day from Penzance to Plymouth whence they will be sent forward to Hamburg where the greatest excitement prevails. It is asserted that life saving belts were issued to the women. It is certain most of the passengers found none. An order was given that the first boat take the women and children. This boat capsized. Poleman says seven boats were launched, and only two lived. The others staved and swamped at once. Cries for help lasted until 3 o'clock. The last voice heard was that of a little child in the cabin. It is not probable boats could have lived even if successfully lifted. The whole number saved is 44 and 30 bodies recovered.

Still Later.

LONDON, May 10—3.30 A. M.—Fifty corpses from the Schiller have come ashore or been landed at St. Mary's alone. The dead are much mutilated.

LONDON, May 10, 6 A. M.—Mr Darrien Smith of Scilly Islands, writes the Times: Many additional lives were lost because the guns and rockets fired from the Schiller were thought to be merely the ordinary signals of arrival, which frequently have been the cause of false alarms.

Among the bodies recovered and already identified are those of Rowne, Laerchne and Anderson.

THE CHINESE INN

A Chinese inn is a peculiar institution. They have no furnished rooms with fires or lights. You drive up to an inn, which, by the way, is through the wall into a court yard where donkeys, mules and carts are congregated. Perhaps some one will come out and inquire what is wanted. If to stay all night you will be shown into a barren room frequently without furniture, never any bedding and on one side a place called a kang, which is simply a raised platform under which a fire can be built to warm the stones which cover the top, and also secures the room from accident by fire, and is the only heat you can get. When you retire your bedding (which you take with you) is placed on top of the kang, and with the warmth of the stones will allow you to sleep quite comfortably. Old temples—in fact many good temples receive travelers. The charges are moderate—a such places in the country one tiao to a cart. Our party of nine carts in going to the great wall paid at one temple with all one seven tiaos, one dollar. Prices vary as the Chinese are in the habit of asking four times the value of a thing especially of foreigners. A fair charge for accommodations at a first class Chinese inn is about two and one half tiao per day, this for room alone. To the natives one tiao less per day. The foreigner is expected to give more than the natives and generally finds it more to his interest to submit to a slight squeeze than to fight the question.—[illegible] Rayo in Syracuse Journal.

There is a report that the steamer Empire will be taken off the line between Coos Bay and San Francisco.

Land and Mining Claim Decisions

WASHINGTON, May 8.—Acting [illegible] [illegible] for May [illegible] [illegible] various decisions recently rendered by the Secretary of the Interior establishing the following principles:

Questions of fact and extent of conflict between two mining [illegible] cannot be decided by the department, but must be left to the courts. Therefore in [illegible] here [illegible] patent [illegible] for claim A conflicting with another claim B previously patented, the exception clause in the last issued patent will have to read as follows: Excepting from this conveyance surface ground conveyed said B company by its patent dated blank and also excepting from this conveyance so much of the B lode as there be as [illegible] conveyed to the said B company by its aforesaid patent.

In regard to soldiers homesteads, Secretary Delano decides that a soldier is entitled to 160 acres of land under the homestead law of June 8, 1872, provided his original entry of not less than 160 acres was made prior to the passage of said act as a homestead farm or as a homestead entry. This reverses the decision of the General Land Office dated Dec 10, 1874.

Commissioner Burdett decides in a case coming up from California, that officers and soldiers while in the regular army are not entitled to the benefits of the homestead act of June 8, 1872.

Commissioner Burdett also decides that the second section of the act of March 3, 1843 gives to the executor, administrator or one of the heirs the absolute right to complete the necessary proceedings for the acquisition of title in case of a deceased pre emption claimant. It does not devolve upon the land department the duty of inquiring if there are any heirs, but if there are any it casts the title distributively upon each, by including him in the general provision.

German Sausages are Bolognas.

The treasury department acquiesces in the judicial decision that German sausages were exempt from duty under the special provision for Bologna sausages and therefore no appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

And Scraps are Tobacco.

The department has decided that tobacco scraps are subject to duty at the rate of 30 per cent ad valorem under the provision of the tariff for unmanufactured tobacco.

Postal Changes

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Postal changes for Pacific coast are as follows: Postmasters appointed: Elias Woodward, Corvallis, Benton county, Oregon; C. Hagenbost, Hot Springs, Lake county, Oregon; F. Park Murphy, Josephine county, Oregon; B. W. Redman, Scio, Linn county, Oregon; George W. Learnside, Tillamook, Tillamook county, Oregon; Mrs Laura Winston, Mossy Rock, Lewis county, Washington Territory.

Marine Hospital Inspection.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Supervising Surgeon General John M. Woodward of the Marine Hospital division of the Treasury Department left to night on a tour of inspection among marine hospitals on the Pacific.

The Postal Union.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—The Postmaster General yesterday issued an order carrying into effect so far as this country is concerned, the treaty for the formation of a general postal union concluded at Berne 1st October. The new rates of postage will be levied on and after the 1st of July next on correspondence to all trading states except France which does not participate in the benefits till Jan 1, 1876.

A Formidable Strike.

The printers who recently struck at the Daily Chronicle are making arrangements to publish a daily morning paper, having purchased the material for the purpose. They have substantial support from the Printers Union, Book Binders and Pressmen's Unions and several other influential trades associations.

Court of Claims.

The judge of the court claims have not yet met in conference on the Union Pacific Railway case, consequently it will not be decided to morrow. The session of court will this year be prolonged till about the 1st of June on account of the unprecedented number and importance of cases that have been referred to it by recent acts of Congress.

In relation to the many rumors of purposed resignations and new appointments in this court it may be stated, Judge Loring, though he has for the past year or two been entitled to the privilege of retiring with full pay, has never expressed any intention of resigning, and is still an active participant in all the labors of the court. Judge Peck will attain the age of 70 and more than complete ten years of service on the bench this month and would resign were there any appropriation available to pay his salary on the retired list during the rest of the fiscal year. As there is not, he will defer till next winter, when he will resign and be succeeded by Holbert C. Laine of Wisconsin.

FARMING ITEMS

Good milk cows in Coos county are worth from $40 to $60.

It is estimated that the wool clip this year in Eastern Oregon will reach 3 000 000 lbs.

The schooner C. C. Perkins came up to Olympia from the Swinomish country last Saturday with a load of wheat and barley.

There is a vacancy in the Agricultural College of this State which will be filled from Coos or Curry county whenever a suitable applicant presents himself.

It is reported that the Grangers of Lane county have formed a corporation for the purpose of building a mill at this place or of buying the Eugene mill property.

The crop prospects of Oregon at this time are peculiarly favorable. In Lane county, says the Guard, a largely increased acreage has been sown this year, and there is the most favorable outlook for more than an average yield.

From Mr Watson the Mountaineer learns that the fruit crop, including peaches, is going to be very heavy at Hood river this year. In this locality there will be but few peaches, but of apples, cherries and plums there is going to be an abundance.

At a regular meeting of Clarke county Council P. of H. held May 1st a resolution was adopted recommending the organization of an agricultural society for the county of Clarke, that membership be fixed at fifty cents and not confined to members of our order.

The Grangers picnic at Young's river last Saturday, was a very joyous affair, and a decided success. The barge Columbia Chief was in attendance and took about 300 happy people, men, women and children, from Astoria and were received with a hearty welcome by the Grangers on Young's river.

AN OBLIGING HOTEL GUEST

The other evening, a kind looking old man was escorted to a room on the third floor of a hotel to pass the night and it wasn't five minutes before the bell indicated that he wanted to see a waiter. A colored boy went up, stuck his head into the room and asked what was wanted. The old man said he didn't want anything, but the waiter was hardly down stairs before the bell rang again.

"Did you want suthin?" inquired he, as he reached the room again.

"Nuthin," replied the old man as he opened the door.

In about two minutes the bell rang again and this time the waiter exclaimed:

"If you don't want nuthin' what are ye pullin' the bell fur?"

"I want to oblige the waiter," replied the old man.

"'De waitah!' Oblige de waitah?"

"Yes, it says here 'Please ring the bell for the waiter,' and if he wants it rung I'm willing to oblige him though I'm tired and sleepy, and shan't pull it more n four times more unless I know that some of his family are sick."

FAT WITH YOUR FORK!—Among the crowd around a hotel dinner table yesterday were a husband and wife from Wisconsin going East on the night train. She was much the younger, and fashionable withal, while he was like an old bear. As they sat down she was heard to whisper: "Remember, now, and eat with your fork." He started off all right, but pretty soon, she caught him feeding his mouth with his knife, and she nudged him and whispered: "You have forgotten—use your fork." He commenced again, but it wasn't two minutes before she had to prompt him once more. He made still another start and another failure, and as she whispered to him he threw down his knife and fork and growled: "Now see here, Mary, it's twelve shillings whether we fill up or go hungry, and I am going to eat six shillings worth if I lose a whole set of case knives down my throat!" She had nothing more to say.—Detroit Free Press.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

The Loss of the Ventura Caused by Negligence

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—The investigation of the circumstances attending the loss of the Ventura recently held by the national board convened in this city has resulted in a revocation of the license of Captain Luke. The revocation is based upon alleged negligence in running at such a rate as 11½ knots per hour and so near the coast in a dense fog. The report says a line from the heads to Santa Barbara would naturally run much farther from the coast without increasing the distance. Even if the distance were slightly increased, the time would be about the same. There is no reason for hugging the coast when only Santa Barbara, San Pedro and San Diego are to be touched at. The Ventura should have been 15 or 20 miles from land in passing Point Sur, instead of 4 or 5 according to the captain's calculation. If there was variation in the compasses a liberal allowance could easily have been made for it. In any event the running of the steamer on shore was entirely unnecessary.

Schooner Wrecked and Captain Drowned

A dispatch received to day from Duncan's mills, Russian river, says: This morning at 5 o'clock the schooner Glenarm parted her bluff line, drifted on the rocks and went to pieces. The captain was drowned and the crew saved.

Fire in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 9.—About 2 P. M. a fire broke out in Ellis & Williams planing mill near the southwest corner of Berry and Fourth streets. The mill has a frontage on Berry street running back some 70 feet, where it connects with the main part of the establishment fronting on Fourth street. The fire broke out in the rear of the wing extending to Berry street. It is supposed to have originated from boys playing amongst the shavings. Owing to the combustible nature of the building and contents the fire spread rapidly through the whole establishment and communicated to Wheelan's feed mill on the east and thence to the two story frame at the corner of Berry and Fourth streets, occupied by George Becker as a restaurant and lodging house. Next to this on Fourth street was a one story brick occupied as a saloon and adjoining the Fourth street wing of the planing mills. In a few moments these buildings were in a blaze, and the fire swept through the main part of the planing mills to Channel street, destroying in its course two small frames occupied as a saloon and office. Reaching Channel street, the flames attacked the wharf at the foot of Fourth street and threatened Long Bridge, but the draw bridge was opened, cutting off communication in that direction. The fire then turned to the eastward, leaped Fourth street and fastened upon the office and lumber yard of C. A. Hooper & Co., when its progress was stayed by the exertions of the fire department. The total loss by the conflagration will not probably fall short of $75 000 or $100 000. Ellis & Williams lose in planing mill about $60 000, no insurance. In the main part of the [illegible] were several small manufacturing businesses, including Salamander Smelting Co., South Beach Machine Works and Variety Wood-works, the loss in which has not been ascertained. Hooper & Co. lose about $7,500. Becker, who kept the restaurant at the corner, loses about $3 500 in furniture and fixtures, insured for $1,500. Loss on the building about $2 000. The building and those adjacent were owned by H. F. Williams and was damaged but little. Other losses, including Wheelan's feed mill will be considerable. A strong trade wind was blowing, and only by great exertions was an extensive conflagration prevented.

Escape of Old Bender.

SAN DIEGO, May 9.—To-day has been the warmest of the season. The thermometer at 6 P. M. stood at 82 degrees.

The Union has a letter from Florence, Arizona, saying that John Bender, Sr., who was in custody at this place a month ago gave sufficient and conclusive evidence that he was the genuine old man of Kansas notoriety. His escape is considered a public misfortune. No trace of him was to be found in Pinal, Pima or Maricopa counties, and the assertion is not far from being correct to state that Bender now reposes on Mexican soil.

Railroad Collision—One Man Killed and Three Engines Wrecked.

KELTON, Utah, May 9.—A terrible collision occurred near Lucien station on the C. P. R. R. at 10 A. M. to-day, between two freight trains. Three engines were completely wrecked and twenty-five cars are ditched and piled on each other. The collision occurred by the meeting of the trains at a sharp bend in the road where it is a down grade both ways, or a sink in the track. Wm Cassin, a brakeman, was killed, and conductor Snyder seriously injured. It is not known who is to blame.

Indian Depredations in Sonora.

TUCSON, May 7.—G. H. Howard lately from Sonora, reports depredations of the Apaches in Sonora of the grossest nature. Several bloody encounters have lately taken place between Mexicans and raiding Indians, the latter being driven off only after severe fighting and afterward returning to the reservation. The whole Sonora frontier is in a state of constant alarm. A large portion of the cultivated lands are abandoned and mines unworked on account of the depredations of Apaches.

Opposition between Victoria and San Francisco

VICTORIA, May 8.—It is reported that Henry Rhodes & Co. of this city have been awarded the contract for carrying Her Majesty's mails between here and San Francisco, the contract to go into operation July 1st. They have had placed at their command two large English steamers for this purpose. A lively opposition may be expected this coming summer, which will prove a great benefit to the people of this country. One of the stipulations made by the government is that the fare must not be higher than $25 in cabin and $10 in steerage. The passage is to be made in from two to three days.

The Salem Statesman inquires for the whereabouts of Parson Gleason, who emigrated from Ripley county, Indiana, to the Wallamet valley in 1860, or any one of his relatives. Mr Gleason lives on Pudding river, in Clackamas county, and has sons and a son in law who are well known citizens of Marion county. G. W. Dimick, Esq., is the son in law.

The Guardian's Lillooet correspondent says: "If the present government is a specimen of that responsible government we may soon have to rule over us in the future, the sooner it is knocked on the head the better, as it consists only of Geo Walkem, who is head, tail and body, and whose arbitrary and despotic government is fast bringing the Province to ruin."

The annual gathering of the ministers and lay delegates of the Methodist church in British Columbia which commenced on the 30th ult. closed on the 5th instant. British Columbia is the largest missionary district in the connexion. It has nine ministers and two paid agents, who are employed in the Indian work. It has four missions among the natives, three day schools and five teachers. Two new parsonages have been completed during the year, one at Cariboo and one at Fort Simpson, and another is in course of erection at Burrard Inlet, under the management of the Rev J. Turner, which will cost when finished, about $1,600. Three churches, one in Victoria for the Indians, one at Somenos and one at New Westminster have been built at a cost of not less than $8 000, and Rev. Mr Crosby is erecting one at Fort Simpson which will accommodate from 700 to 800 persons. Three new missions have been formed. Two young men were received on probation, one for the white and one for the Indian work. Three additional ministers are expected from Ontario, one of whom is to succeed Rev. Mr Pollard in Victoria.

A QUEER CASE.—At a meeting of Spiritualists, held in a village not a great way from Scranton and not long since, one of the members of "the circle" received a message from a friend in the unseen world to the effect that he would certainly die upon a certain day and hour, mentioning the time with a positiveness that to the circle and the gentleman referred to left no room for doubt. The message also conveyed an admonition to the effect that he should, in anticipation of the event, immediately procure a life insurance policy for $10 000 for the benefit of his family. In obedience to the suggestion the policy was secured, and upon the appointed day and hour the man died. The wife, upon applying to the company for the amount named in the policy, was informed that the policy was voided by reason of her husband's having committed "moral suicide," that is, died because he thought he must do so in accordance with the supposed message. The wife has now brought suit against the company for the amount of the policy.—Scranton (Pa.) Times.

The carpenters who have been at work at the Tatoosh lighthouse have completed the improvements. A dwelling house, containing fourteen rooms, has been erected, the whistle-house lowered a few feet, and various other necessary improvements, costing about $18,000.

The Transcript says: "On the south side of Chehalis river, opposite the mouth of Black river, there are two or three townships of excellent land, with only a few settlers. These are mostly bottom lands, very rich soil, light timbered and can be easily cleared. They would furnish claims for a large body of settlers."

A MEDICAL MONKEY.—All previous narratives of intelligent proceedings on the part of animals are thrown into the shade by the following account of a medical monkey, described by the Oriental correspondent of a London journal: "He one day saw a monkey holding a snake by the throat, and rubbing its head in the dirt; but, as the ground was moist and damp, the snake was not readily killed by this mode of punishment. Every now and then the monkey would look most knowingly in the face of the reptile to see if it was dead, and in the course of one of these investigations the monkey received a severe bite. This angered him and he speedily despatched the snake, but its coils had hardly relaxed before the monkey reeled and fell prostrate, and apparently in all the agonies of death by poison. By this time an aged looking monkey arrived on the scene, and, after examining the bodies of the snake and its victim, he immediately started for some bushes, where he collected some leaves of the plant known as the red cherchita. These he rapidly and skillfully fashioned into a sort of pill, which he administered to his snake-bitten companion, who speedily revived and walked off with his physician. The story is declared to come from trustworthy sources."

COLD FEET.—At a large dinner party, recently, the cold weather had done considerable duty in supplying conversation, when a plump, happy looking married woman made a remark about cold feet. "Surely," said a lady opposite, "Mrs. ——, you are not troubled with cold feet?" Amid an awful pause she naively answered: "Yes, indeed, I am very much troubled—but then they are not my own." Her husband blushed scarlet.

THE PLATFORM BUILDERS AT WORK.

Prudence is always commendable, and the foresight which allows no emergency to find one unprepared, is a thing to be admired. It is, therefore, with feelings of admiration that we witness the diligent efforts of the politicians to get themselves in readiness to make the most of the next Presidential election, an event a year and a half in the future. Some of these endeavors are transparently personal and selfish in their scope and purpose, while others have, or appear to have, in view only the triumph of some principle or party. Of the latter class are the platform makers, the Democratic members of which guild have had ample employment for some time past, and seem not to be in danger of finding themselves out of a job, for some time to come. One would naturally suppose that out of the multitude of platforms, all differing in essential respects, on which that party of everlasting principles has found it convenient to place itself within the last few years, it would not be difficult to select materials with which to construct a platform broad enough for all Democrats to stand upon, almost enough if every voter had to have a separate plank of his own. But the trouble is that these different planks do not dovetail together just as well as they might; and the chief carpenters and blacksmiths of the ancient and honorable organization are sorely puzzled. Indeed there is evidence tending to show that they have given up in despair the effort to construct a platform on which all Democrats can stand at the same time, and are now bending their endeavors to the discovery of materials of such doubtful character that every particular individual of the unwashed throng will mount the platform alone at his own time and place, and will believe it is just the thing he wanted and just the opposite to what is wanted by his unwashed neighbor who is himself "on" it in exactly the same way.

The latest efforts in this patriotic labor are two in number, issued simultaneously by those two of the great lights of the party of eternal principles, U. S. Senator McDonald, of Indiana, and U. S. Senator Gordon, of Georgia. Mr. McDonald's platform has but three planks in it, to wit:

1. Return to Republican government in the South.
2. Tariff for revenue only; and
3. Resumption of specie payments.

That is brief, comprehensive and sound as a nut. If we except a small handful of voters, led by the late Geo. H. Pendleton, who are in love with greenback currency, and a few who believe with Mr. Morton that the Southern people have no rights which the carpet-baggers are bound to respect, we are not aware of anybody of any party in the United States who would not plant himself on this comprehensive platform. And when they all got together on its broad, smooth surface, the way they would fight over their differences on the very questions it pretends to touch would be something perfectly sublime to behold. "Return to Republican government in the South." Certainly; but is not this rather vague? What is Republican government? That is exactly the point in controversy, and this declaration of a principle of action does not so much as suggest a definition. "Tariff for revenue only." Less vague than the other, but open to any amount of squabbling over the distribution of that tariff among the various articles of commerce. "Resumption of specie payments." Of course; but how? Everybody that is anybody, whether of the household of the Democratic faithful, or of the Republican unfaithful, wants to see resumption, those who can tell by what process that much desired end can be accomplished are by no means so numerous. Persons differing radically and irreconcilably on the very point touched, or pretended to be touched, by this proposition, would readily agree to it in its general form. This platform might do to cheat ignorant and thoughtless people with for a day; but it does not bear analysis. It dodges the practical questions of the hour at the same time it makes a show of grappling them.

And what of Senator Gordon's performance? A Southern man and ex-Confederate soldier, he may be taken as a representative of the Democratic party in that part of the Union. Hence the platform he proposes must be a matter of peculiar interest. Here is what he proposes to plant the unchangeable on when the battle of 1876 begins:

1. "Honesty."
2. "Concord."
3. "A definite and unmistakable pledge that the people of the South will protect the negro in all his rights of freedom and franchise."
4. "A return to constitutional methods of government, both in the State and nation."

"Honesty," forsooth! What party or faction does not declare this as its first principle? The Kelloggs and the Shepherds and the Moseses and the Tweeds have all presented that declaration to a credulous public before Mr. Gordon discovered it. And "concord." Between whom? on what subject? how to be brought about? Passing over the third plank in this platform for the present, we come to the last one, which is merely McDonald's "Republican Government" plank dressed differently. But the third plank of Gordon's platform is a little more definite. There is something in it which an ordinarily intelligent mind can take hold of. The legal rights of the colored people are defined by law or definable by the courts. A pledge that all these rights should be respected and protected by the white people would be a pledge that would have a meaning. But this is the only idea found in either of these platforms that is not transparently and repulsively fraudulent. If the Democracy are to have nothing better than some elaboration of their flimsy shams for its platform in 1876 it would better go into the campaign without any declaration of principles, and take the chances of winning the race through the talismanic influence of the party name among that class of voters who pronounce it as if it were spelled with an i in the first syllable and a y in the second.

NATIONAL DEBTS.

The Pall Mall Budget lately published a statement of the debts of different nations, which shows that the aggregate of public debts is in the neighborhood of $23,750,000,000. This is probably very nearly accurate, as the compiler appears to have bestowed considerable attention on his subject. Of the vast aggregate mentioned, almost 97 per cent is owed by the twenty countries named in the following table, and over half by the first four States in the list. This table exhibits the debts and the annual interest, in millions of dollars, together with the rate of interest paid by each of the twenty:

Countries.	Debts, mill'ns of dolls.	Int'st, mill'ns of dolls.	Rate.
France	4,500	165	3½
England	3,900	132½	2½
United States	2,200	103	4½
Italy	1,950	76¾	4
Spain	1,835	55	3
Austria	1,720	75	4½
Russia	1,700	67½	4
Germany	1,000	45	4½
Turkey	670	47½	7
India	650	29½	4½
Brazil	410	15½	4
Holland	400	11½	2½
Egypt	375	37½	10
Portugal	345	10½	3
Mexico	317	20	6
Australia	230	13½	6
Peru	185	13	7
Belgium	180	8¾	5
Hungary	150	7½	5
Canada	150	7½	5
Totals	22,950	912¾

These debts are simply the amounts due from the respective Governments proper, and do not embrace the indebtedness of the political subdivisions, and municipalities, which in the United States would aggregate little if any less than the Government debt, and which would have to be counted, in furnishing a true estimate of the indebtedness of the country. Nor are the debts of transportation and manufacturing companies, nor of private individuals included, all of which are debts of the country. The sum of all those species of debts is too great for the mind to grasp. Against this, however, must be placed, as a partial set off, the amount of these debts public and private, which are owing to citizens, and the small amount of debts against foreign countries held by citizens, all of which are to be considered assets.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

On last Saturday Judge Shattuck, in the circuit court, decided the case argued some days previously, involving the validity of the act of the last legislature which limited the amount of indebtedness to be deducted from taxable property to $1,000. Two objections were urged against the validity of the law, namely: (1) that such a law is in contravention of the constitutional requirement that all taxation shall be equal; and, (2) that the act does not conform to the requirement of the constitution, in that while it purports to be an amendment to a section of the law of 1864 relating to assessment of property, it does not set out at length the section [illegible] On this last question, which goes merely to the form of the statute, the court held the case to be within the rule laid down in Stock vs Portland, decided some years ago in the Supreme Court, and in which an act was declared void for nonconformity to this requirement. His Honor therefore held the amendment to the assessment law to be void, but did not express any opinion upon the question raised as to the legislative power on the subject.

The county court, we understand, have directed the district attorney to appeal the case, so as to have a decision of the Supreme Court on the point, which will be accepted as final all over the State, before the meeting of the county board of equalization this fall. In this the county judge and commissioners have certainly acted wisely. Meanwhile, in order to avoid all trouble in settling questions of fact before the boards of equalization, it would be advisable for persons in giving in their assessment lists, to insert a statement of the indebtedness which they desire to have allowed them. Otherwise the equalization boards will have an immense task before them, in case the Supreme Court affirms Judge Shattuck's decision.

The details of another horror are given in the telegraphic news this morning. Since the wreck of the Atlantic nothing has occurred in the way of marine disasters half so heartrending as the loss of the Schiller, which though in a different part of the world, happened almost exactly in the same manner.

We give our readers by telegraph London dates to 6 o'clock this morning, with full particulars of the Schiller disaster so far as received at London up to that hour.

A STATE CHURCH.

[From the Washington Chronicle.]

The question of the continuation of State grants to the Established Church is under serious discussion in the Prussian Parliament. The people of the United States have demonstrated beyond all reasonable doubt that the support of churches by the taxation of private property is as needless as it is unjust. In all the States of Europe religious freedom is at length tolerated. In each one, however, some one form of Divine worship is established by law and supported either by the income from church property, or by general taxation, or by both. The accumulation of church property exempt from taxation in many of them is an immense evil, as it imposes increased burdens for the support of civil government on the owners and occupants of the residue of private property. This incubus has become so great as to occasionally result in revolutions, and the sequestration of the estates of the Church. But in the absence of this source of ecclesiastical revenues, the support of any one form of religious worship from the public treasury is so grossly unjust to all dissenters and non-professors of religion as to be regarded in this country as an unendurable enormity. Its injustice is no less in the State of Europe. Nonconformists, even in England, the freest country on the other side of the Atlantic, after paying by voluntary contributions for the support of their own churches, are compelled to pay taxes for the support of the Established Church.

It is to be seen whether the sense of justice is strong enough in the Prussian Parliament to break up this abomination. Could Bismarck conduct this reform to a successful issue, his name would [illegible] be illustrious along the coming ages to the end of [illegible] God is [illegible] Compulsory worship of Almighty [illegible] not piety. The compulsory support of [illegible] worship by one class of citizens for the benefit of another class, however good, is a form of injustice without a solitary reason for its support. But compelling people to pay taxes for the support of a form of worship which they do not attend and conscientiously believe to be in violation of God's law, is a moral monstrosity as indefensible as the old Spanish inquisition. It is amazing that it could have continued 1800 years after the inculcation of religious freedom by the Savior of the world, as it still exists in the most enlightened Christian nations.

A BRUTAL MURDER IN ARIZONA.

CAMP VERDE, April 29.—A brutal murder was committed at Lower Verde settlement last Friday, at a Mexican wedding. It appears a Mexican named Chilipinto threw a stone, severely cutting one of the guests in the face. He then ran out of doors, followed by two Mexicans and a white man named Malone, one of the Mexicans grasping a spade as he went out. They shortly returned without the deceased, reporting that they did not know where he was. The body was afterward found, terribly cut about the head with some blunt instrument. The spade was found, covered with blood. The facts were reported to the Sheriff, who went to the scene, arrested the two Mexicans, and took them to Prescott for examination. Malone had left, and has not yet been apprehended.

A traveler in Northern New York after the late snow storm says that while driving to Pulaski, Oswego county, he saw a singular sight. A farmer had dug a hole in the snow down to his wood-pile, and was at work in it chopping some wood. So deep was the hole that only the blade of the ax, while it was at the height of its circling sweep, could be seen.

An engineer is now employed to ascertain the cost of building a dyke across the Wyache prairie, half a mile from Neah Bay. This prairie contains about 2,000 acres of first-class land, which is overflowed by the high tides. A dyke, one-quarter of a mile in length, with a tide-gate, would render all this land suitable for agricultural purposes.

MONDAY MORNING, MAY 10, 1875.

CITY.

SAFELY REACHED HOME.—Very many of our readers are well acquainted with Miss Gemma Frankie and her romantic history. This young lady left Portland some months ago to rejoin her family and friends, from whom she had been separated for 18 years. We have been shown a private letter received in this city a few days since. The letter was written at Florence, Italy, the home of Miss Frankie's parents. From the letter we learn that after nearly two months' detention in New York she sailed for Havre in the steamer Villa de Paris at 4 o'clock on the 20th of March. A pleasant voyage of twelve days across the Atlantic, and the vessel reached her destination in safety at 6 o'clock P. M. on April 1st. Miss Frankie did not remain at Havre, but taking the train, went through to Paris that night, arriving there at 4 o'clock A. M. She left Paris for Florence at 7 o'clock on April 2d and arrived there on the 4th of April, after an absence of 18 years. As may well be supposed, her family, consisting of a father, mother, a sister and three brothers, were overjoyed in meeting her, who for so many long years was mourned as lost. The writer states that she cannot speak a word of Italian, and her family do not understand a syllable of English, so all their conversation must be carried on through the medium of an interpreter. She is treated very kindly and is contented with her new home. Inclosed in Miss Frankie's letter is a beautiful pressed flower, sent as a memento from that far-off sunny land—so romantic in its historical associations and so famous for its songs, poetry and paintings.

THE INQUEST.—The coroner's inquest over the bodies of those who were killed by the explosion of the Senator was continued on Saturday during the entire day, and far into the evening, but not concluded. A number of witnesses were examined, and the testimony thus far elicited is quite voluminous. Mr. John F. Caples, the foreman, conducts the examination of the witnesses, and the evidence is reduced to writing. Up to a late hour on Saturday evening the following witnesses had been examined: E. C. Lyon, deck hand on the Senator; John V. Smith, engineer on the Senator; Jas. Peran, passenger; P. R. Moores, passenger; Peter De Huff, engineer; James Lotan, U. S. Inspector of Boilers; Geo. Marshall, engineer; Dr. J. B. Pilkington. The inquest will be continued this morning. The testimony is being taken with a view to publication, and in the next issue we hope to be able to lay most of the evidence and the verdict of the jury before our readers.

ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE.—Our evening cotemporary learns from H. C. Dale, sheriff of Yamhill county, that a man who has been for some time in the charge of the county as a pauper, and partially insane, though not considered dangerous to himself or any one else, left the house where he was confined last Friday noon. His absence was prolonged to a greater period than was thought proper, and search was made for him. After beating about the woods for an hour or two, he was at last found in a very critical condition. He had evidently wandered away from the house with the intention of taking his own life, and he lay near some underbrush, with one gash across his throat, and another across his arm. He had tried to sever the jugular vein, and failing in this, had tried to bleed himself to death by inflicting the wound mentioned upon his arm. As soon as possible he was returned to the house, but at last accounts there was but little hope for his recovery.

AN UNLUCKY BUT LUCKY FALL.—Mrs. Allen, wife of Mr. Washington Allen, of East Portland, has, it appears from a cotemporary, become the fortunate possessor of a large sum of money. A letter was received by the lady a few days since, which contained the joyful intelligence that she was heiress to $20,000. The money came from a grandfather of Mrs. Allen who was so unfortunate as to fall down a flight of stairs, from which injuries were sustained that caused his death a short time since. Mrs. Allen, we learn, is a daughter of the late ex-Senator McDougall, of California, one of the most brilliant men who has represented that State on the floor of Congress. The fortunate possessor of this large sum of money is an accomplished lady, of pleasing address, and doubtless deserves the good fortune which has fallen to her.

PASSENGER LIST.—The steamer Ajax sailed on Saturday morning from San Francisco for Portland with the following passengers: Hon. J. McFadden and family, A. G. Forrensa and wife, C. Gilbert and family, Caleb Eaton, A. Grossman and family, O. C. Patten, A. P. Park and wife, T. P. Smith and family, Fleetwood Powles, J. H. Underwood and wife, A. Selwyn, C. P. Troy, J. W. Tilden and 2 children, J. Wagner, P. P. Chamberlin, A. A. Champlain, P. Whonsetter, J. M. Williamson and wife, R. G. Field and wife, B. Parker Jr., L. R. G. Smith, Miss C. Richardson, E. Hargreaves, W. A. Ellason, M. Smith, J. P. Sullivan, J. H. Daly, J. C. Mills, B. G. Mills, H. B. Loveridge, F. Law, C. Swegle, wife, 2 sons and 2 daughters, G. D. Snow and wife, and 316 in the steerage.

RETURNED.—Gen. O. O. Howard, after an absence from the city of about one month, returned home on Saturday evening, accompanied by Lieut. Sladen. During his absence Gen. Howard has visited the Indian reservations at Umatilla and Walla Walla; also the military post at the latter place. He has likewise visited the post at Colville, and inspected it. Lieut. Sladen reports that they experienced a very hard time during the trip. Five days were required in making the trip from Walla Walla to Fort Colville, and an equal number of days in returning. There was no snow to cross, and the road was entirely free from mud. Both the General and his aid stood the trip well, and return in good health and fine spirits.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.—The funeral obsequies of the late Captain McGill who lost his life by the terrible explosion on board the Senator last Thursday, took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the Catholic church in this city. The funeral was numerously attended by the relatives and friends of the deceased. After being recovered from the wreck the body was sent up to Oregon City, and remained at the late residence of deceased until yesterday, when it was brought down on the E. N. Cooke. After the religious ceremonies were concluded at the church, the remains were conveyed to the Catholic cemetery, and consigned to their last, silent resting place.

BAND REORGANIZED.—A reorganization has recently been effected in the East Portland Brass Band, which has so long furnished our citizens excellent music on occasions of processions, parades, excursions and balls. Among other changes is that of the adoption of a new name. Hereafter the band will not be known as the East Portland Band, but has assumed the more pretentious appellation of the "Oregon State Band, of Portland." Prof. Parrott will still remain leader of this excellent musical organization. Several new members have been added to the band, which will increase its proficiency.

DOING WELL.—We are gratified to note the fact that all those injured by the recent explosion are doing remarkably well, and are in a fair way to recover. Cowhey, who, it was thought, had sustained serious injuries, is able to walk around. Grif Jones, the steward, who, upon a subsequent examination by Dr. Kinney was found to have sustained a fracture of both legs, is getting along well, and is considered beyond danger. Charles Grant, who was injured in the region of the abdomen, and sustained a fracture of the shoulder blade, and Felix Evans, whose arm was fractured, are both doing well, under the treatment of Dr. Strong.

AN ORANGE THIEF.—A man stole some oranges from a down street grocery store last Saturday, and the proprietor seeing him, chase was instantly given. The shop-owner, however, was too portly to capture the thief, so he called to his aid an active policeman and together they renewed the search, but with what results we have not learned. The purloiner has been detected in this daring act many times before this last occurrence.

EYE INJURED.—Last Tuesday, Mr. Dan Halpenny, a plumber, while handling hot solder, accidentally let a portion fall into a pan containing some muriatic acid. A few drops of the acid were thereby thrown into his left eye, and it is feared that this organ is partially, if not entirely destroyed. The pain attendant on the accident was extremely severe.

STEAMER SENATOR.—All that remains of this ill-fated craft now lies beached on the eastern shore. The search for more bodies has temporarily been abandoned, but persons are employed to watch the wreck day and night, so that if any of the bodies should float to the surface they can be secured. As the river continues to rise the hull will be drawn up on the bank to the highest point. When the water recedes the boat will be left high and dry, and the work of tearing up the hull and what remains of the cabin will be an easy matter. The machinery is all as good as new, and will be taken out when the water falls.

LITERARY CONTEST.—All persons of literary tastes will bear in mind the debating contest announced to take place this evening at Good Templar Hall, between the Philomathean and Sumner Literary Societies of Portland. The order of exercises will be conducted in accordance with the programme as previously announced and will doubtless be profitable and pleasing to all who may attend. In addition to the debating contest there will be an essay and declamation, which will contribute greatly to the variety and interest of the occasion. Admission is free, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public.

BODY FOUND.—On Saturday the body of a man was discovered floating in the Wallamet river, near Milwaukie. The body was well dressed, and from appearances had been lying in the water about ten days. We have since understood that the body has been identified as that of Mr. Zanbeizer, a tanner, well known in Portland, and who has resided in this county for many years. At present writing, we are unable to learn further particulars, and cannot state what disposition has been or will be made of the body.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, May 9, 1875:

A BRICK.—Of course everybody knows Knaggs, who has so long been in the employ of the O. S. N. Co. This is what the Lewiston Northerner says about him: "Knaggs, agent of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company at this place, is a brick. The nicest thing that company has done for some time is giving us Knaggs. He has doffed his beaver for a very cheap straw. He looks saintly."

TUG FAVORITE SOLD.—On Saturday the steam-tug Favorite was sold, in satisfaction of debt, by the United States marshal. The boat was "knocked down" to Mr. John Nation for the sum of $2,000, who bid for Captain D. B. Finch, of the Sound. We understand that the purchaser proposes to take the tug over on the Sound in a few days.

LECTURE.—Rev. Thos. B. Van Horn, U. S. chaplain at the post at Vancouver, will deliver a lecture this (Monday) evening at the Baptist church on the subject of the "Battle of Lookout Mountain." The proceeds of the lecture will be given to the Chinese Mission School. Admission 50 cents.

AT HALF-RATES.—Mr. R. P. Earhart informs us that arrangements have been effected with the several steamboat and railroad companies, for the transportation at half-rates of delegates to attend the annual meeting of the Royal Arch Chapter and Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M., which will convene in this city next month.

TENDER COMPANY.—There will be a meeting this evening of the members of Columbian Tender Company, No. 3, at the engine house, for the election of officers. The boys desire a full attendance.

AMUSEMENTS.

Madame Phelps and company, with Capt. McDonald's band of trained Indians, will appear at New Market Theater on Friday and Saturday evenings of the present week. A matinee performance will be given on Saturday afternoon. Madame Phelps and company will arrive in Portland Thursday evening from the Sound.

Frank Gilder's Concerts given at Masonic Hall Saturday afternoon and evening, were well attended, and gave entire satisfaction to the large and appreciative audiences. A number of new musical—vocal and instrumental—selections were rendered in admirable style at both performances. Every piece was encored, which will serve to indicate the merits of the individual performance. Gilder, with his truly marvelous and wonderful manipulations on the piano, fairly entranced the audience, who appeared as if they could never get enough, and insisted upon encoring him three and four times. Madame Babcox rendered a number of vocal selections artistically and won a number of hearty encores. Miss Blanche and Mr. Whiffin sang several duets and solos charmingly, and were the recipients of hearty applause. In the evening, Mr. Gilder gave the audience convincing proof of his complete mastery over the instrument at which he presides, and Mr. Whiffin appeared in a violin solo, rendered in a very clever style, and in response to prolonged applause favored those present with "The Last Rose of Summer," "Sweet Spirit Hear My Prayer," and other familiar selections on the violin. To-morrow evening the company will appear at Reed's Opera House, Salem. We can congratulate the public of Salem on the rare musical treat in store.

BRIEF NOTES.

More "fruitful showers."

Red Men's picnic postponed.

Muddy streets and crossings again.

California strawberries have appeared in the markets.

Special meeting of the common council to-morrow evening.

Remember the literary contest this evening at Good Templars' hall.

A message remains at the telegraph office uncalled for, for Joseph Verschi.

Front street merchants will soon have to move goods from their basements.

Numerous new advertisements will receive attention to-morrow in these columns.

Rev. Mr. Rae, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Port Townsend, occupied Taylor street M. E. church pulpit yesterday forenoon.

The remains of John Crowley, who was killed by the explosion on Thursday, were buried on Saturday in the Catholic cemetery.

All the flags over the numerous steamboats and sailing vessels in port yesterday, were displayed at half-mast, in respect to the memory of the late Capt. McGill.

The ferry-boat Salem No. 1, which has temporarily taken the place of the Oregon and California Company's ferry, had her boiler tested Saturday. The boiler having withstood the required hydrostatic pressure, was passed upon favorably by the inspector.

A pair of elk horns may be seen at Raffety Bros.'s drug store, East Portland, that are quite a curiosity. One of them is as perfect in form as any ever seen, but the other looks very much like it had been struck by lightning, or twisted into every conceivable shape by a very strong power.

BASE BALL.

There will be a meeting of the Pioneer B. B. C. at the office of J. M. Gearin, Esq., this evening, when an election of captain of the first nine will be held.

A hotly-contested game was played on Saturday afternoon between the Bishop Scott Grammar School and Multnomah clubs. The former club "got away" handsomely with their opponents with a score of 35 to 19.

ORTHOGRAPHICAL.

The attendance at the Good Templars' challenge match, on Saturday evening, was proof that the interest in orthographical contests is still pretty general in this city, the fine hall belonging to the order on Third and Alder being comfortably filled on the occasion. Mr. Syl. C. Simpson, who was to have acted as propounder, could not be present, and in his absence Mrs. C. A. Coburn made an acceptable "schoolmarm." The contest lay between a team from Multnomah Lodge and a joint team from Nonpareil and Portland Lodges. Some good spellers belonging to Portland Lodge were absent, which necessitated a corresponding reduction on the Multnomah side. As drawn up for the contest the forces numbered sixteen to sixteen. Multnomah mustered a goodly array of printers, while Nonpareil and Portland boasted a newspaper editor who is also a Doctor of Divinity, a ministerial orthographer who had made his appearance at previous matches, and one or two who had had some experience as school teachers. Multnomah was the first to waver, but its best spellers remained, and the broken ranks were closed up, and the contest became very spirited toward the close. When the Portland and Nonpareil detachments showed signs of weakness they fell quickly. At last they were represented by but one member—a lady—and, agitated by reason of her loneliness, she, who had previously done nobly, failed on a simple word. This left Multnomah Lodge as the victor, its champions being A. G. Walling and L. E. Coldwell. The word "haugh" was then propounded to Mr. Walling. He looked up to the ceiling for guidance, then down to the Brussels carpet, next scratched his pate and eventually spelled the word phonetically, and failed. Mr. Coldwell, who had not read Scott's novels for nothing, gave the Lowland Scotch word correctly, and carried off the honors. A volunteer match followed in which Willis Duniway proved the victor. Refreshments were served during the evening, and Prof. Newell and assistants favored the audience with a fine selection of music.

PICNICS.

The executive committee appointed to make arrangements in connection with the printers' picnic, announced to take place on the 22d inst., met Saturday afternoon at the OREGONIAN office, and appointed S. A. Moreland chairman, W. S. Cameron secretary, and A. G. Walling treasurer. One of the first acts of the committee was to pass a resolution against the sale of spirituous liquors on the boat or on the grounds on the day of the excursion. The rates were fixed at one dollar for gentlemen and fifty cents for ladies; children under 12 to be taken free. The following committees were appointed: On grounds—T. W. Lockwood, A. G. Walling and R. Schwab; conveyance—S. A. Moreland, W. A. Daly and David Steel; finance—W. H. Coburn, George Good, C. H. James; printing—W. S. Cameron, E. Turner, and Willis Duniway; music—L. E. Coldwell, Theo. Smith, Geo. Himes; amusements—D. W. Kidd, Major Johnston, W. Bowden, Charles Williams and Henry Hill; prizes (to co-operate with the committee on amusement)—A. Bushwiler, J. M. Baltimore, W. R. Boone; invitations—W. S. Cameron, W. H. Coburn and A. G. Walling. The meeting was adjourned until Thursday next at 12 M., at the same place, when the committees named will report progress.

JOSEPH D. LOCEY.

The saddest feeling that will arise in the hearts of citizens of Salem at reading the account we publish elsewhere, taken from the OREGONIAN, of the disaster to the steamer Senator, will attach to the loss of our friend and fellow citizen, Jo. Locey, who has so much of late years made his home in this city. We cannot part from him without giving some slight tribute to his memory. It is a pleasure that is left us to remember that he was true, sincere, kind and honest. It was foreign to his nature to be otherwise. He was gentle as a woman; and a purer and more truthful man could not be found, yet he was earnest and competent in the discharge of life's duties. He had the soul of a poet, and shared many of the eccentricities of poetic natures. We have published a number of his contributions, and his poetical writings have found favor with other journals and a favored place in the pages of the Overland magazine. He was a true Christian and an honest gentleman, and it is well with him to-day in that celestial home beyond the shores of life's stormy seas. Mr. Locey was at one time county judge of Clackamas, and represented that county in the Legislature in 1866.—Salem Record.

Mr. Locey for the past two or three years had been a contributor to the columns of the OREGONIAN, furnishing articles both in prose and verse.

IN MEMORIAM.

At a special meeting of the Turn Verein of Oregon City, May 7, 1875, the following resolutions were adopted:

INASMUCH as it has pleased Almighty Providence to remove from our midst our friend and brother, George Warner,

Resolved, That in his death we mourn the loss of an estimable companion, an earnest, skillful member of our society; one fearless and upright in character; and a young man of promise, betokening a useful and honorable career as a fellow-citizen.

Resolved, That we tender our most heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved parents, and to all those most near and dear to him, and sincerely hope and trust that the same hand which has ordered this terrible calamity, will give them comfort and strength to bear their overwhelming affliction.

Resolved, That our hall be dressed in mourning for thirty days, and that the members of the society wear crape for the same length of time.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, be forwarded to the Turn Verein of Portland, and be inserted in the Oregon City Enterprise and Portland daily papers.

SCOLLAY PARKER,
President.
N. E. RANDALL, Sec'y.

FROM OREGON CITY.

Under date of May 8, 1875, our regular correspondent sends the following:

The funeral of George Warner and John Cosgrove, who were killed by the explosion of the Senator on Thursday, took place to-day. It was conducted by Rev. T. L. Eliot, of Portland. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the Baptist church, where the service was held, was crowded to its utmost capacity, and hundreds of sad faces bore testimony that the sympathy of the community was fully enlisted in behalf of the bereaved families of the dead. It seemed as if every citizen of our little town was more than interested, and stood ready to help allay the grief which, they knew, the ministrations of time alone can soothe. The business houses have all been closed since morning.

Capt. McGill's body was brought up on the Cooke last night, with the bodies of those whose funeral took place to-day, and has since been lying at his residence in this town. A special boat has been detailed to convey his remains to-morrow (Sunday) to Portland, where the last sad rites of sepulture will be performed, and the body, that contained so brave a heart, will be consigned to its final resting place.

FOUND.—On First street, between Morrison and Alder, No. 105, the place where watches, clocks and jewelry can be bought at reasonable prices, and where watch repairing is done at a lower price than at any other establishment in this city. Call on W. Friedlander.

Much excitement is created and good houses drawn to the Museum to see the new trick box. Both ladies and gentlemen are delighted with this and the many other novelties seen there. Twenty-five cents invested will return a thousand per cent. Try it.

The finest beer—not Steilacoom, nor any other importation, but home manufacture—at the U. S. Brewery depot.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Ladies who wish to have their own hair braided, made into switches, or worked up into any kind of ornamental work for use or preservation, will do well to call on or send to Mrs. Lusson, on Ninth street, between C and D. She does all such work very neatly and upon reasonable terms. a25d1m

At The GREAT EASTERN CLOTHING STORE they are offering the finest Clothing to be found in the city, at prices that defy competition. There you can select from the latest styles which are laid in upon the arrival of every steamer from San Francisco. A full line of Furnishing Goods, Youths' Suits, Valises and Trunks constantly on hand. Observe the sign, "Great Eastern Clothing Store," W. HARRIS, Proprietor, 125 First street.

DR. GAYLORD.

AN INSIGHT INTO THE MAN'S CHARACTER.

Rev. D. J. Pierce furnishes the following to the Evening Journal:

PORTLAND, May 5, 1875.

Editor Daily Evening Journal: I do not believe myself called upon to give my opinion upon all lectures or entertainments, but on account of personal experience which may save others from a gross deception, I beg leave to say that Dr. Gaylord, whose company is announced to give an entertainment at Masonic Hall this evening, presented himself to me last June in Laramie, Wyoming, as a well known temperance lecturer, wishing to arrange for my church audience room for a temperance lecture on Sunday evening. As I have no objection to a good temperance lecture I asked for credentials, when he asserted that he had none—or for some newspaper article on the lecture, but was answered in the negative, and learned to my great astonishment that "The well known Dr. Gaylord had lectured ten years to many hundred audiences without ever being noticed at all." That was too flagrant a libel upon the neglect of the press, and I questioned further, and I finally was given a badly crumpled hand bill, saying he had found this old bill by chance among his papers.

He did not occupy my hall, but on Monday morning there appeared a flood of hand-bills precisely similar to the one given me, plus an addition of a prize scheme which he had thoughtfully cut off from the bill given to a clergyman to avoid any religious scruples which I might have to lotteries. The lecture was delivered and declared by many people in Laramie to be a perfect copy of one of our lady lecturer's efforts in the East. The lottery was carried out by presentation of worthless brass jewelry, etc., not a single prize being drawn; and a slight rumping over given to Mr. Pierce for his conscientiousness, which finished the entertainment and begun the indignation meeting, held by those defrauded of their money under false pretences.

Several articles appeared in the Laramie Daily Independent the next day, denouncing the whole affair as the most unprincipled farce ever perpetrated upon the public, having neither the merit of smartness, instruction or fun.

I trust that neither the public schools or the citizens of Portland will consider such a fraud as the proper manager of a spelling match, but chose one from their own number; and I would warn the public of Oregon not to enter hastily into negotiations with one, in my private opinion, most sadly devoid of the common principles of honesty, or the characteristics of a gentleman.

D. J. PIERCE.

I only mention this because efforts have been made to enlist the public schools in this matter.

D. J. P.

That's right. Pass him round. The McMinnville Reporter says he is one of those "one-horse makeshifts that go straggling about the country, too shiftless to work for a living and too stupid to make a legitimate livlihood in their present callings." And the Eugene Guard sets him at about the same price.

SOMETHING NEW.

The new style of promenade photographs. These beautiful pictures are now made at Bosco & Megler's new rooms, Nos. 127 and 129, First street. Call and examine them.

During the warm weather there is nothing better nor more cooling than a drink of soda water from Gibson & Co.'s "Arctic."

Mr. Walter Norton, late of Fleidner Bros., will be pleased to see his numerous friends at his new barber shop, Alder street, near Front. Everything in first class order and prompt attention.

Miller & Co., 45 First street, are making their new confectionery more attractive daily.

M. ROSENBLATT, Clothier, has just returned from San Francisco with a large Stock of Spring Goods—particularly Boys' and Youths' Clothing, at lower rates than ever. Call and see before purchasing. The store is No. 79 Front street.

Spelling matches are all the rage now, and there is no telling what may follow to occupy the attention of society. What attracts most attention in the vicinity of Front and Washington streets is the establishment of BECK & WALDMAN. The immense stock of spring and summer Clothing, and the marked changes in the matter of charges at this house is sufficient to draw large crowds to their store. Youths' clothing continues a specialty, and persons make a great mistake if they fail to examine the stock at Beck & Waldman's.

NATIONAL SURGICAL INSTITUTE.

The Pacific Branch Permanently Established in San Francisco.

Since the first visit of Dr. H. R. Allen (the founder of the National Surgical Institute) to this coast, nearly two years ago, it has been the intention of the Institute to establish a Branch in San Francisco. The subsequent visits of other Surgeons of the Institute, and the unparalleled success which attended them, has served only to strengthen the project. After the expenditure of much time, labor and money in preparing instruments, machinery, etc., the Pacific Branch is at last permanently established, and will be open for the reception of patients by the middle of this month. For the present, and until further notice, the business will be continued at their old building, No. 219 Bush street, between Kearny and Montgomery, San Francisco. The machinery for the Swedish movement and vacuum cure; Galvanic and Electrical apparatus, and for giving the Electro Thermal, Turkish, Vapor and other baths, has all been received from the East, (where it was manufactured in the Institute machine shops), and is rapidly being placed in position. Dr. J. M. Hinkle, one of the oldest and most successful surgeons of the Institute, associated with Dr. Thos. Mayon and a corps of skilled assistants, are already in San Francisco, and will remain there in charge of the Branch Institute; consequently no further questions need be asked or fears apprehended concerning the permanency and proficiency of the Pacific Branch.

Dr. Allen will visit the Institute in San Francisco on the 20th of this month, and remain until the 15th of May following, during which time he will be pleased to see all the old patients now under treatment, and as many new ones as possible. The Institute is especially prepared to treat all Deformities and Surgical cases, Chronic Diseases, etc.

Address National Surgical Institute, 219 Bush street, San Francisco, for circular and particulars.

What the Nervous Require.

What the nervous require more than any thing else is invigoration. Sedatives alone will not cure nervousness. The reason that the nerves are so susceptible is that they are weak. Compensate for this deficiency of strength, and over-acute nervous sensibility disappears. The most rational, wholesome, and agreeable tonic is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Medical men recommend its use for the cure of general debility, knowing it to possess strength-giving properties of the highest order, and at the same time to be a means of reforming those bodily irregularities which induce nervousness and loss of vigor. It is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, whether nervous or billious, and is powerfully conservative of a regular habit of body. As it is notorious that those who are afflicted with weak nerves, biliousness or constipation, are peculiarly liable to the influence of malaria, it is invaluable to such persons on account of its preventive efficacy. It endows the body with health, and the mind with cheerfulness.

IMPORTANT.—Indorsed by the Medical profession. DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS cures Coughs, Colds, Consumption, and all diseases of the Throat and Chest. DR. TOWNSLEY'S TOOTHACHE ANODYNE cures in one MINUTE.

BE YOUR OWN DOCTOR.

Save yourself many dollars in money and many pangs of pain by keeping PRATT'S ABOLITION OIL constantly on hand and using it for all lameness and pain. KOHN, opposite the National Bank, is still busy disposing of those new and exceedingly attractive styles of summer suits. His recent visit to San Francisco gave him an opportunity to make the necessary arrangements for the shipment to his house of the latest and most fashionable suits as they should appear. Everybody who has had any acquaintance with Kohn needs no urging. You need a suit, or some furnishing goods now, and Kohn offers you a splendid chance to buy.

Practice versus Theory.

The theory of disease accepted by physicians is, that symptoms are merely sympathetic indications of its existence, and have in most instances little or nothing to do with fixing its locality. Their practice, however, is diametrically opposed to their theory, for they administer medicines which affect symptoms only. The remarkable cures of dyspepsia, sick headache, constipation, rheumatism, general debility, urinary and kidney troubles, and malarial fevers, wrought by Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, could never have been accomplished by remedies which addressed themselves merely to the removal of any one of the manifold and complicated symptoms to which those maladies give rise. Acting, as the Bitters do, directly upon the stomach and tributary organs, overcoming their irregularities and endowing them with renewed vigor, they control, as it were, the springs of vitality, purifying and giving them fresh impetus, and dispersing all those harassing symptoms which proceeded from their misdirection or contamination.

Justice at Last.

The public were far in advance of the medical profession in recognizing HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR as a specific for consumption, coughs and colds; but at last the Faculty are doing justice to the great antagonist and conqueror of pulmonary diseases. The country druggists generally report that the local physicians are prescribing it in preference to all the old pulmonics, and that the result is an immense increase in the per centage of cures.

HOMES FOR SALE

STRANGER, IF YOU MEAN "BIZ," HAVE A little money and are on the work, we're the identical chaps you have traveled the "plains across" to see. When you say "Home" you strike our strong weakness. Right here, within the sound of the church bells, we have good land for from $25 to $100 per acre. Remember this is within 3 or 4 miles of the Metropolis of Oregon, where people wear store clothes, observe the Sabbath, ride on steamboats and railroads, have spelling schools, with a soil and climate not excelled for vegetables, fruits, cereals, hops, and "linguns;" with a cash market, and no fear of drought, curculio, grasshoppers or crickets; no "Spanish grunts" to rob you; where we have telegraphic communication with Europe, Asia, Africa and Plymouth Church; where ministers don't have to take summer vacations, for we've got a Brooklyn of our own; and where a Real Estate Agent is given a "wide berth." Yes, if this suits you, and you want to raise fruits, and vegetables, and chickens, milk, make butter, and WORK, we can fill the bill. True, they are in the rough; but WILL, and MUSCLE, and BRAINS will make Homes of them in the fullest sense. So come right along.

"ONLY A GIRL."

(From the Woman's Journal.)

The following brief and terrific record is taken from the Springfield Republican:

"A MOTHER OF CRIMINALS.—Some of the most curious and remarkable criminal statistics ever obtained have just been given to the public by Dr. Harris of New York. His attention was called, some time since, to a county on the upper Hudson, which showed a remarkable proportion of crime and poverty to the white population—480 of its 10,000 inhabitants being in the almshouse—and, upon looking into the records a little, he found certain names continually appearing. Becoming interested in the subject, he concluded to search the genealogies of these families, and, after a thorough investigation, he discovered that from a young girl named Margaret—who was left adrift, nobody remembers how, in a village of the county, seventy years ago, and, in the absence of an almshouse, was left to grow up as best she could—have descended two hundred criminals. As an illustration of this remarkable record, in one single generation of her unhappy line there were twenty children; of these, three died in infancy, and seventeen survived to maturity. Of the seventeen, nine served in the State prisons for high crimes an aggregate term of fifty years, while the others were frequent inmates of jails and penitentiaries and almshouses. The whole number of this girl's descendants, through six generations, is nine hundred, and besides the two hundred who are on record as criminals, a large number have been idiots, imbeciles, drunkards, lunatics, prostitutes and paupers. A stronger argument for careful treatment of pauper children than these figures could hardly be found."

How little it could have occurred to those who knew this poor Margaret in her girlhood—who perhaps pointed the finger of warning to her, or withheld the aid that might have saved her, or refused to help her back to virtue, or perhaps tempted her deeper into sin—how little they dreamed what a mighty influence that young creature was to exert in their community! They followed her career in imagination no more than we follow that of any stray girl whom we idly notice as she passes along the street, little dreaming that our own or our children's fate may yet be interlinked with hers. Many an indignant matron, who spurned this poor Margaret as an outcast, may have borne children whose children were contaminated by the influence of Margaret's descendants. Many a respectable man, who felt his own early sins rebuked when her sins were mentioned, may have left descendants who were entangled in the dark deeds of her posterity. In her lifetime she was a waif, a stray; she could be nothing to the virtuous, except an object of pity or disdain. Now, after generations have passed, she turns out to have had, perhaps, more influence on her community than the virtuous themselves. The village squire, who built the church, the saintly clergyman who preached in it, can hardly be claimed, after seventy years, as having had so much influence over the village, the county, or the State, as this neglected girl, who, perhaps, never crossed the church threshold.

Who was Margaret? What was she like? I fancy her to have resembled the pretty Irish child of fifteen whom I yesterday saw one of our policemen taking to the State almshouse, whither her father and mother, both helpless drunkards, had preceded her. A lithe and graceful girl, with soft dark eyes, straight eyebrows, delicately cut features, full of shy and tremulous expression—young enough to have a childlike air, old enough to draw down her veil when too closely regarded—drifting on, with this fatal gift of grace and prettiness, who can tell into what future—thus may Margaret have looked, or, more probably, she may have been, even from girlhood, a dull, obtuse, feeble-minded, unattractive creature—with hereditary traits of evil already strong in her blood—sinking into wrong the more hopelessly in proportion as she had less sense of shame. At any rate, attractive or repulsive, gifted or deficient in gifts, Margaret lived; and the statistics show to what disastrous purpose. Kings and conquerers have their monuments; even James Fisk, Jr., has his; but this poor girl has her ineffaceable memorial in the records of her county, brought to light by the terrible zeal of a statistician. As with a queen, only her first name is preserved; we know not her family; she is not even Margaret of Anjou, she is simply an almost forgotten Margaret of New York. But she is such a queen as the weird pen of Baudelaire or of Swinburne might picture—parent of a race anointed to rule only in the underworld of shame and despair.

One of Wordsworth's most powerful poems is that called "The Affliction of Margaret," painting, in colors that seem to be made of the human heart's own atoms (in Margaret Fuller's phrase) the distress of a mother who has for seven years been deserted by her only son.

"Was ever darkness like to this?"

The poor thing says. But what was her darkness to that of this other Margaret, to dwell in the midst of her children and see the hereditary taint reassert itself in the blood of each? For here lies, observe, the peculiar affliction of this Margaret, and the peculiar importance of her position as a woman, that she could not easily, as a man does, shake off the care of her children; she evidently tended them, remained among them, dwelt with them. We know who she was; we know not who was the father of any one of her children; he may have gone his way, and taken no care of the nurture of those poor young things. Seen in the light of Margaret's sad dynasty, how plain is it that the fate of the community depends upon the career of its women! Napoleon was right; what a nation chiefly needs is to secure good mothers. Instead of "only a girl!" it would almost seem that one should say, in estimating influence over the next generation, "only a boy!"

And, indeed, who can tell, in thus judging of Margaret's influence, how many acts of goodness even she may have done on the way? She may have had courage, or patience, or sweetness of temper, or overflowing generosity; all being qualities not denied to sinners; and these may have made her sometimes a source of blessing, in great emergencies to those around her, and they may have kept grateful record of good deeds now forgotten. She may have been of those to whom Shakspeare writes—

"The evil that men do lives after them;
The good is oft interred with their bones."

Nay, she may even have been like her of whom it is written that her sins were forgiven, because she loved much. Yet, alas! this could not remove the blight that rested on her descendants. Poor Margaret!

Be this as it may, she has long since gone her way, and is beyond our reach. But who can tell how much better off the world would have been had any strong power—love, religion, science, education, law—averted her career at the very beginning, and bade her become a source of blessing, not of blight, to that posterity of nine hundred? We cannot help Margaret, but every stray girl who crosses our path, a friendless child, may have just such an alternative before her; and so surely as society neglects her, it runs the risk of suffering from her, in return, a hundred and a thousand fold.

The Mercantile Agency of R. G. Dunn & Co. have issued a circular giving statistical information of the failures in the United States during the first three months of the current year. The number of failures in Oregon are not given, but the liabilities of the insolvents are placed at $88,000. Vermont shows the smallest amount of liabilities of any State in the Union the sum being $31,200, while, New York excepted which has over ten millions, Massachusetts has the greatest, $5,611,000. From the tables it seems that thus far in 1875 the failures have not been largely in excess of previous years, while the amount of liabilities shows no increase whatever above the average of years. Considering the continued depression in numerous interests, the exceeding severity of winter, and the lateness of the spring, the conclusion is on the whole encouraging. It was to be expected that numerous wrecks from the panic of 1873 would be discovered long after the storm had past, and probably not a few of the above failures can be thus characterized. The ability to stand the pressure of these continued hard times, and the steady maintenance of credit which the above figures imply, under all the adverse circumstances of the season, is subject for congratulation.

The imports are in gold values while the exports are chiefly in currency. The export values reduced to gold amount to $612,509,600, including $72,700,000 in specie and bullion. Even under this method of comparison the balance is in favor of this country, showing our foreign trade to be in a healthful condition.

Domestic Produce.

In this department of trade there is a good deal of activity manifested just now, and shipments are quite large for the season. Wheat, however, is slow in offering, and, as no vessels are on hand to load, buyers are not at all pressing the market. Flour is firm at our last quotations, while mill feed is still inclined to appreciate, bran being especially scarce and high, jobbing at $16@16 50 per ton. Bacon is also firmer at an advance of ½c ℔ over the prices last given. Dairy products are in slightly less receipt since the heavy weather set in and eggs are now quite firm at 20c ℔ doz, with the prospect of an advance of 2c ℔ doz on Monday.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Ajax, with a fair freight and full passenger list, left San Francisco for this port to-day.

The bark Menshikoff arrived from San Francisco with a fair freight of miscellaneous merchandise, which she is discharging at Flanders' wharf.

The bark Mattie Macleay, consigned to her owners with a cargo of sugars, coffee and other products from Honolulu, has arrived.

The schooner Katie Heron, for Tillamook, and the British ship Elizabeth Dougall, for Queenstown, went to sea from Astoria on Friday last.

The brig Orient has just finished loading lumber for San Francisco at the South Bend Mills, having made nearly an average of one trip on that route each month for a year past.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Arrived—Schooner Annie Gee, Coos Bay; schr Greyhound, Tahiti; schr Caroline Medan, Shoalwater Bay; German ship La Rochelle, Apia, Navigators Island; Colombo bark Bohemia, Amsauke, Mexico.

Sailed—U. S. str Shubrick, cruise; bark Oak Hill, Port Blakely; bark Milan, Port Gamble; schr Sparrow, Umpqua; str Ajax, Portland; bark Martha Rideout, Port Blakely.

San Francisco Markets.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Flour—Jobbing, $5@5 50. Wheat—Millers offer $1 80 for best, shippers $1 70. Barley—$135 to $1 37½; choice bay brewing, $1 42½.

Dairy Products—Fresh roll butter, 27½@32½c. Cheese, 13@16c. Eggs, fresh, 20c.

Oats—$2 05@2 20.

Hay—$12@18.

Bran—Mill price $20@19 on wharf.

Onions—Oregon, by auction, $1 75.

Potatoes—$2 15@2 30.

IMPORTS.

Per bark Mattie Macleay, 21 days from Honolulu, cargo consigned to Corbitt & Macleay—3,356 kegs sugar, 131 mats sugar, 300 sks rice, 100 sks coffee.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—During the week specially under review the price of this cereal has steadily advanced in this market, and quotations to-day are given at $1 55 per cental—a higher figure than has been reached since the harvest year began. At this rate very few lots are offering, and, as buyers do not seem anxious, transactions are not frequent at all. The predicted short crop in California and some of the northwestern grain growing States has affected the market as much as any other cause, as the European quotations do not justify it by any means.

FLOUR—Stocks here are not excessively large, and most dealers have advanced prices 50 cents per bbl on all brands. Quotations for jobbing lots are $4 50 to $4 75 per bbl for choice extras, $4 25 for outside brands and $3 75 for superfine. Shipments continue quite active both to San Francisco and northern ports.

OATS—The receipts are declining in volume, and prices are steady at 65 cents per bushel in sacks. Without advising our readers who may be holding, we venture to express an opinion that now is a good time to sell. The demand is fair at quotations.

BARLEY—Transactions are off for the present, no lots being in the market except a few arriving to order; quotations are unchanged and nominal.

MILL FEED—The market is almost bare of most kinds again, and prices are unusually high for the season. We quote middlings, chops, etc., at $27 50@30 ℔ ton; shorts, $22@25; bran at $14@15, and oil cake meal, $30.

HAY—Considering the progress of the season prices are very steady at $11@12 ℔ ton for good timothy, baled and unbaled.

POTATOES—It seems from the continued full receipts that the fears of a scarcity were unfounded. Prices for all kinds are a little weaker, but choice lots are still held at 75c ℔ bushel.

ONIONS of the old crop are scarcer, and choice lots bring $1 75@2 ℔ 100 lbs.

APPLES, RIPE—But few choice lots are offering, and such are quotable at $1 ℔ box; common, 60@75c; loose lots, mixed and specked, 50c.

APPLES, DRIED—There is no active inquiry, but lots offering are quietly placed at 5@6c ℔ lb.

BACON—Classed under this head are all smoke-cured hog meats, of which there is a small stock of fair and ample supply, of sorry in the market at this time. We quote common country-cured shoulders at 7@8c ℔; sides, 12@12½c ℔ lb; hams, 13@14c. Sugar-cured held at an advance of 3c ℔ lb.

LARD—The supply is fair at 14@15c ℔ lb for choice lots, whether in kegs or tins.

BUTTER—There is a tolerably fair supply of good dairy for the local trade, but receipts are not large. Choice lots are quotable at 30@33c ℔ lb; common 22@25c.

CHEESE—The supply from State dairies is not large; quotable at 16@20c ℔ lb; demand fair.

EGGS—There is a little more inquiry to-day under advices from San Francisco, and prices have advanced to 20c ℔ dozen.

BEEF CATTLE—Live cattle in fair condition are quotable at 2½@3c ℔ lb on foot, or dressed at 5@6c.

DRESSED HOGS—The demand is light; quotable at 6½@6¾c ℔ lb.

MUTTON SHEEP—There is a very fair demand at $2@3 75, for good to choice, per head.

HIDES AND FURS—There is a good trade being carried on by local buyers and shippers. Beef hides are quotable: for choice dry, 16c ℔ lb; green salted 7c; green, 6c; culls, 10@12c; elk, 18@20c ℔ lb; deer, 18@25c ℔ lb dried, and 15@40c apiece green; mink skins each, $1@1 50; otter, $2@5; beaver, 75c@$1.

WOOL—It is generally deemed that the outlook is fair for full prices for the spring clip, but, as yet there is little doing. To realize the best figure growers should be careful to assort their fleeces and market them in the cleanest condition possible. Maximum quotations are 25c ℔ lb, ranging downward to 20c for choice to good, and 18@20c for common.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, than can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

They state that Blaine's poli now until the meeting of next Congress silence. They are somewhat curious to the meaning of the Treasury changes, whic imagine, may have political import. They think the removal of Douglass is, to some e blow at Pennsylvania, and, of course, rega they have regarded Pennsylvania as one of strongholds. They maintain that the indic the last two months plainly show that Brist self is a Presidential aspirant, a fact which to be believed by all the principal politic who have recently been here.

THE TILTON-BEECHER CAS

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Brooklyn c room was crowded this morning. Mr. a Beecher came in early. Tilton, Stephen P drews and Kate McDonald sat with plaint yers. The next witness recalled by plaintif sel was

Geo. A. Bell,

He testified that he had no remembrance West changes, but remembered the propo sons' meeting after the Woodhull charg made.

Shearman objected to this evidence on th that the matter had been fully gone into o examination.

Fullerton said he believed this was so, an to another subject.

Witness continued: He remembered th view with Beecher, in the middle of D 1870, about Tilton's domestic difficulties. terview was at Beecher's house, where wit at his request. Beecher requested his opin visiting Mrs. Morse. He stated he had b for by Mrs. Tilton to consult in regard to affairs in her household, and that she w mother's house and had left her husband. Tilton's conduct with regard to licentious very low; that he had been called in by girl in Tilton's household, who told him o conduct towards her. He proposed to turn ter over to Mrs. Beecher, who was to g Mrs. Tilton next day, and the question about permanent separation, and he aske what he thought about it. Witness said else could be done. He asked if the advic of the church should be called. Witness that it could be managed by a few, better large number, and it was better in his Beecher's hands. Witness had an interv day with Beecher. Have a letter at hom for this interview, and thought the date

Witness was not cross-examined.

The next witness was

Lewis J. James,
